

Because so many SUV's and large trucks are used as passenger vehicles, I feel that they should be required to meet the same emission standards as cars.